- Special enrollment periods available for life changes like losing other coverage, moving, marriage, and having a baby.
- Year-round enrollment for Medicaid, CHIP, and small business
The ACA is Working: Uninsured Rates Decline

- 57% of Marketplace enrollees nationally were previously uninsured
- Surveys show the uninsured rate in Texas dropped after open enrollment:
  - Rice University: adult uninsured rate down 2.4% points.
  - Gallup: adult uninsured rate down 3% points.
  - Commonwealth Fund: nonelderly adult rate down 12% points.
  - U.S. Census data will NOT be available until Sept. 2015

2015 Premium Analyses

- Some Marketplace premiums are going up, some are going down.
- In general, changes in other states have been modest and lower than standard pre-ACA yearly increases of 10-12%

- 7% average rate increase across 33 states and DC (PWC)
- 1% average decrease across 16 large U.S. cities (Kaiser Family Foundation)

2014 employer premiums and coverage were stable

- Family premiums increased 3% in 2014
- This is the lowest rate of increase in the Kaiser/HRET survey’s 16-year history
- The share of employers offering coverage and employees enrolling in coverage were unchanged.

Additional Information

- Late surge in Texas Marketplace enrollment
- Importance of Navigator services
- ACA benefits for Texans
- Needed improvements moving forward
- Evidence suggests ACA not increasing part-time work so far
Late Surge in Texas Enrollment

More Texans selected plans in the last 6 weeks than the first 5 months

Total Texas enrollment through mid-April: 733,757

- 438,732 Mar - Apr
- 295,025 Oct - Feb

Increase in enrollment in the last 6 weeks of open enrollment

- U.S. 89%
- Texas 148%

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Health Insurance Marketplace Enrollment Report
ACA Benefits for Texans

- Mental health: expanded mental health and substance use disorder benefits and federal parity protections for 5,188,706 Texans

- Coverage for young adults: 357,000 young adults under age 26 in Texas who would otherwise have been uninsured have gained coverage through a parent’s plan

- No lifetime limits: 7,536,000 Texans are now free from worrying about their coverage “running out” if they get sick

- Increased access to preventive care: colonoscopies, well-child visits, well-woman exams, flu shots and other recommended preventive care is now available with no cost-sharing for 5,762,000 Texans
Importance of Navigator Services

- Navigators are professional, well-trained, accountable enrollment assisters.
- Texas Navigators appear to have more extensive training requirements than navigators in any other state using the Federal Marketplace.
- Navigator organizations are respected groups with strong community ties that generally have a long history of helping people connect to health coverage through Medicaid, CHIP, and Medicare.
- Consumers using in-person assistance were twice as likely to successfully enroll in the Marketplace as those who attempted online without help.
Texas has many opportunities to improve access to and understanding of coverage:

- Both insurers and doctors must be equipped to provide accurate information on network status to consumers, so consumers can make informed choices.
- Networks must be adequate, even if narrow.
- HHSC and TDI should become active partners in the statewide network of counties, cities, FQHCs, hospitals, and navigators helping to inform and enroll Texans in coverage. Our state agency experts could work collaboratively to increase knowledge about coverage available and respond to issues consumers face when using coverage.
- Texas should accept federal funds to close the Coverage Gap to reduce local property tax burdens and insure low-wage workers.
Evidence Suggests ACA Not Increasing Part-time Work Thus Far

CBO: “there is no compelling evidence that part-time work has increased as a result of the ACA.”

Urban Institute: Part-time work increased during the Great Recession and has declined since 2011. No evidence of more part-time work than expected in 2013. Rate plateaued in 2014, off 0.6% point from what would be expected, which is “more likely due to a slower than normal recovery of full-time jobs following the Great Recession,” and not ACA-related.
